SHORT BIO

Prague-born DJ Vladimir Wolf, known for his passion for music since childhood, began his career early in Brno. After moving there at age 7, he honed his skills, leading to club residencies and performances at major Brno music events, including Sono Music Club and Fléda. Post-graduation, Vladimir launched successful music projects, bridging the sounds of Prague and Brno. A regular at student events and international shows, his favorite venue is the bustling Fléda Club, hosting over 1,200 music enthusiasts.

FULL BIO

Vladimir Wolf is well known DJ born in Prague, Czech Republic. His family moved from the capital to Brno when he was 7. With huge passion for music, recording his mixtapes from radio and constantly evolving, his DJ journey started quite early. His precision and hard work got him residency in number one clubs in Brno, where he lived and studied. He was resident DJ of couple of clubs in his hometown before graduating from gymnasium in the age of 19. Vladimir also played on major music events in Brno, including the ones in Sono Music Club, Fléda, Enter Club (formerly known as Favál) and others.

After graduating, his dedication to music started finally paying off. He started his own music projects in 2019 and he changed the club scene in Brno forever. He was regularly traveling to shows in Prague, bringing the sounds from the capital to his hometown. Keeping up his name on top of the club scene in Brno helped him a lot when promoting his own music projects. Vladimir was also lucky enough to show up regularly in the main student events, with other well known local and international DJs. His favorite music club in Brno is Fléda with capacity 1 200+ people, where he plays usually once in a month.
